Carolina Law
Where Research and Scholarship Flourish

Carolina Law is an intellectual community where scholars thrive.

One of the pillars of our mission as a great public law school is to make significant legal and policy contributions through an ambitious agenda of research and scholarship.

At Carolina Law, we are honored to be the home of a renowned faculty producing meaningful scholarly work with real-world impact. When not in the classroom, our faculty can be found on the lecture circuit and in the halls of government, working for the betterment of society.

We are proud of their published works and how their research bears on contemporary concerns. We look forward to sharing more of their work in the future.

Martin H. Brinkley ‘92
Dean and Professor
